Personal Statement

I am a student in History and I am applying to the Student Opportunity Fund for one purpose: archive research trip for a senior thesis. This opportunity connects directly to what I want to do after graduation, and I could not cover the full cost on my own this year.

Over the past year I have taken on more responsibility in my program, including helping newer students and working part time on campus. I have planned the costs carefully and kept them as low as I can, as the budget shows.

If I receive an award, I will share what I learn with my department, and I will submit the short report the fund asks for within a month of finishing.

Reference 1 (page 1 of 2)

I am pleased to recommend applicant APP-002 for the Student Opportunity Fund. I have known the applicant for about two years, as their instructor.

The applicant has worked with me on a project this year. They keep good records, meet deadlines without reminders, and are quick to tell me when something isn't working.

I think this opportunity is a natural next step for them, and I support the application strongly.

I would add that the applicant has already shown they can plan and carry out work of this kind on their own. Please contact me if you need anything further.

Reference 2

I am pleased to recommend applicant APP-002 for the Student Opportunity Fund. I have known the applicant for about two years, as their instructor.

In my course the applicant stood out for steady, careful work rather than last-minute effort. Their written work improved a great deal over the year, and they take feedback well.

The activity described in this application fits their goals well, and I expect they will make good use of it. I recommend them without reservation.
